To the Alumni and other Friends of the College of New Jersey.

To the liberality of an earnest friend and benefactor of his Alma Mater, the present edition of this Catalogue owes its existence. This is only one of the proofs of his interest in the College, and of his efforts to promote its welfare. For his unwavering confidence and uniform kindness to the Editor in the prosecution of the work of publication, the most cordial thanks are here given. The Editor has spared neither time nor labor to make the Catalogue not unworthy of Alma Mater, and hopes for the approbation of his fellow-Alumni. He has sought information in all directions, and has consulted all the authorities within his reach. His acknowledgments are gratefully made to all who have assisted him in the work, and especially to M. Taylor Pyne, Esq., whose contributions have been exceedingly valuable. Criticism is easy, execution is difficult. Doubtless many omissions will be found, despite the efforts to make the Catalogue accurate and complete. Besides the regular increase of nearly six hundred names since the last edition, nearly two thousand additions, changes and corrections have been made in the Catalogue and in the Index. The special changes are those which will be noticed in the lists of the Trustees and the Tutors, which are no longer mere aggregations of names, and a complete list of the Clerks of the Faculty.

When the present Editor took charge of it, twenty years since, the Catalogue was a small pamphlet of one hundred and twenty pages, containing about 4600 names, of which about 4000 were those of graduates; now there are more than 6800 names, the Alumni are more than 6000, a majority of whom are believed to be living, and the Catalogue has become a volume of 240 pages. Besides the regular annual increase and the degrees conferred in course, more than eight thousand additions, changes and corrections have been made by the Editor in the six editions he has supervised.

The co-operation of the Alumni, and especially of the Class Secretaries, and also of all friends of the College, is solicited for the further improvement of the Catalogue. Accuracy in names, dates, places and titles should be particularly observed; and all publications in reference to the Alumni would be of especial value.

Communications in reference to the Catalogue or giving information respecting the Alumni may be addressed to
